Cong 'Human Waves' Fail; Yanks Kill 580

REPORTER'S REFLECTIONS

The onslaught of mental illness is triggered when experiences an individual has break down his normal rational and emotional responses but the roots of the illness lie buried in his personality.

Mental illness is perhaps our most rapidly increasing disease and is the one principal reason we advocate a favorable vote on the mental health referendum on Tuesday.

The simple fact is more and more people need the psychological counseling services such as Sinissippi Mental Health Center provides.

The second reason is to provide education about ways to better mental health which our society so badly needs.

There is a minimal amount one can do to prevent mental illness attacking him, if a certain combination of circumstances and a given psyche meet. However, just as many people live fairly normal lives with bad hearts because of heart education, it is possible for persons with fairly deep neuroses to live reasonably fruitful and happy lives given some special knowledge and insights about themselves.

This is possible through mental health educative and counseling activities.

Never has a generation been faced with so many adjustments. There are at least two living generations of parents who have experienced the challenging of virtually every value they were taught was unchanging.

These people have experienced loss of personal recognition ranging from television to advanced automation, and are better known by number designations than by their own names.

These people have seen the strong authoritarian voices of church, school and home muted and none speaks with certain assurances any more.

These people have known an unprecedented period of prosperity accompanied with a high geared technology which has permitted them to surround themselves with gadgets and gadgets until they have very few honest-to-goodness human experiences.

These are the people who are overfed but worry about obesity and heart trouble; oversexed and yet have concerns about impotency.

With two generations of parents caught in this maelstrom, one can only pray for their offspring.

Some of the upholding of sex in our time is a healthy ventilation of a natural wholesome activity which too long was kept in the closet, but the preoccupation these generations have with sex demonstrates a frustrated attempt to have real human experiences and a search for the God who may not be dead, but who is not relevant to them.

This is a cursory critique of modern society and of the people who will more and more often need the services of psychological consultants.

2nd Biggest Victory for U.S. Troops

SAIGON (UPI) — About 2,500 Viet Cong in human waves assaulted some 400 U.S. infantrymen on three sides today. The Americans killed at least 580 of them and counter-attacked in almost a carbon copy of the war's greatest victory.

In the same area 11 days ago outnumbered GI's killed 622 and possibly 900 attacking Communists for the Vietnam conflict's record victory.

Desperately pressing for a badly needed win, a crack guerrilla regiment unleashed a pre-dawn mortar and unprecedented howitzer barrage and then stormed at two companies of the U.S. Army 1st Infantry Division near the Cambodian border 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

Pogo Sticks

U.S. field commanders said at one point Communist troops knocked out two bunkers of one American company with "pogo sticks," small hand-carried rockets, and broke through the GI's defense perimeter. But there they died.

The Americans, largely draftees, cut down 50 of the Viet Cong on the spot. UPI correspondent Tom Corpora reported the guerrilla dead lay "stacked up like cordwood."

Other Communists fell in waves when they ran across open jungle clearings into American machinegun fire, rifle bullets and the splash and fire of napalm and anti-personnel bombs dropped by U.S. jets. The strike planes skimmed in over the trees under which the Americans fought.

The jellied gas and CBU (cluster bomb units) fell within 25 yards of the American infantrymen. But not one GI was reported hurt by the air support.

In Saigon, official reports said at least 518 Communists had been counted dead. But Brig. Gen. James Hollingsworth, deputy commander of the 1st Infantry Division, said at least 580 had been killed and he expected the toll to go even higher.

In Palmyra Township

Outcome of Referendum To Decide Motel Location

The outcome of the township referendum to permit the issuance of liquor licenses in Palmyra Township may determine whether the township assessment will get about $1 million boost by the erection of a large modern motel, according to Robert C. Collins, vice president and manager of Emerald Hill, Inc.

Collins said plans call to build the structure in Lee County but a bar is included in the plans and if the referendum fails, the motel will be built in Whiteside County.

He explained the county line divides the property held by the corporation and the structure could be built in either county although the owners prefer the Lee County location.

Sketch of North Side Drive-In Bank

. . . Dixon National Bank's planned separate facility

Separate Drive-In Bank Slated by Dixon National

The Dixon National Bank is among the first in Illinois to establish plans to construct a separate drive-in banking facility as authorized under the 1967 Illinois Banking Act.

The bank will construct a building to provide drive-in banking service at Boyd St. and Hennepin Ave.

Donald R. Lovett, bank president, today announced the facility would include two drive-up windows for bank patrons who may enter either from Boyd or Hennepin and also a walk up window which will be enclosed with a small lobby.

Parking Spaces

The site will also include spaces for parking autos.

The building will be constructed of brick, glass and steel and be about 15 feet by 30 feet.

Lovett said the facility will provide the same banking services as are obtainable at the drive-in windows at the bank now. These, he said, include making deposits to checking or savings accounts; loan repayment; obtain money orders, coins and currency.

The North Side drive-in bank service will provide the same hours of service as the bank and drive-in windows which are from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday with additional Friday hours from 5:30 to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. until noon.

Better Service

The bank decided to establish this separate facility, Lovett explained, because the present drive-in facilities during certain periods will not properly accommodate the number of persons seeking to use them and because a large number of the bank's patrons live on the North Side and this planned facility will permit the bank to give them better service.

The bank president said work would begin in about 30 days and the facility will be in operation by mid-July.

Banking law in Illinois previously prohibited a bank from establishing a separate facility to conduct banking transactions.

The new statute permits a bank to set up one such separated banking service facility.

Rockefeller, Sharon Percy Exchange Vows

CHICAGO (UPI) — John D. (Jay) Rockefeller IV takes Sharon Lee Percy as his bride today in a wedding of American monetary and political royalty. It's a match that had a helping hand from a daughter of the President of the United States, White House sources revealed.

Lynda Bird Johnson, the President's elder daughter, who played a part in bringing Sharon, 22, and Jay, 29, together, and her frequent escort, movie star George Hamilton, attended a pre-nuptial party for the couple in New York a few weeks ago and were expected to attend the wedding today.

They were among 1,200 guests expected to jam the Rockefeller Memorial Chapel, built on the University of Chicago campus by Jay Rockefeller's grandfather, to witness the ceremony uniting the daughter of a U.S. senator and self-made millionaire with a fourth generation member of the Standard Oil dynasty.

Mutual Radio Announcers Back at Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union and management negotiators meet with federal mediators today in efforts to settle the four-day strike against the three major television and radio networks.

The Mutual Broadcasting System, a radio network only, announced a settlement Friday night with the 18,000-member American Federation of Television and Radio Artists. Mutual network newsmen began reporting to work immediately.

Terms of the agreement were not immediately made public.

Ask Court Dismiss Powell Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has officially embarked on what could be an historic confrontation with the courts over the Adam Clayton Powell case.

Through special counsel, it has asked the U.S. District Court here to dismiss Powell's suit to force the House to give him back the congressional seat it barred him from on grounds of misconduct.

Filed Friday

In a legal brief filed late Friday, Bruce Bromley of New York, the counsel hired by the House, told the court that granting Powell's petition "would bring the judicial and legislative branches into the conflict prohibited by the (constitutional) doctrine of separation of powers."

The gist of the 73-page brief was that the House's decision to exclude Powell was none of the judiciary's business because the Constitution gives each branch of Congress sole power to decide the qualifications of members.

Bromley further warned the court that it could not force the House to accept Powell, no matter what its decision on his suit.

Powell, the preacher-politician from Harlem, has said he would carry the case to the Supreme Court if necessary. He contends he has met the only constitutional qualifications — age, citizenship and residency.

There was no indication when the lower court would rule on the House request to dismiss the suit, but oral arguments have been set for next week.

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Sharon Percy's stepgrandmother died in a suburban Evanston hospital today on the day of Sharon's wedding to John D. Rockefeller, but the wedding is expected to go ahead as scheduled.

Mrs. Emily Guyer, 68, of Alhambra, Calif., died apparently of a heart attack after fainting Friday in the Chicago Art Institute. She was there during presentation of a print by New Trier High School classmates and friends in the memory of Valerie Percy, who was stabbed to death in September by an unknown assailant.

Zone 4 Supervisors Hear Cook Co. Board President

More than 115 persons Friday attended the Zone-4 meeting of Illinois supervisors and county commissioners at the Lincoln Manor when Richard Ogilvie, president, Cook County Board, was featured speaker.

Speaking to the members of the 24-county area, Ogilvie began, "America's urban areas are in a state of crisis today, beset by a host of problems, financial, political and environmental. With 70 per cent of all Americans now living in cities or suburbs, this crisis is the most serious of our time."

He said national life in America has changed dramatically as people flocked to the cities.

Ogilvie said there are many failures to consider and added, "What are the causes of our failures? Which are the directions in which we must look for solutions?"

"First, our revenue structure is obsolete," the Chicagoan asserted. "Local Government is overly dependent on the property tax as a source of revenue . . . the same basic source of 200 years ago!"

Ogilvie said property tax was well suited to colonial America, but today, "the poor man or middle class suburbanite, may be paying taxes on his entire wealth, while another pays on what may be a tiny fraction of his accumulated resources."

Four on Ballot For Park Board

There are four candidates for park board commissioner in Tuesday's elections, all seeking the post vacated by Ken Mall whose term expires and who will not seek re-election.

The County Courthouse is the only polling place for Park Board Commissioner elections.

Here are the candidates and some of the reasons they cite for seeking the post.

Thomas E. Hufford

Thomas E. Hufford, 616 Cedar St., 31, is a Dixon High School graduate and presently shop foreman of Lindquist Construction Co.

He served two years with the U.S. Army from 1958 to 1960 and was stationed in Germany being discharged as a Pfc. He and his wife, Paula, have two children. Hufford is a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

"I was one of the first to file after learning that Ken Mall was not seeking re-election and I filed primarily because I felt that I have a civic duty to run for an office if there is no one else running."

Jack W. Jordan

Jack W. Jordan, 39, 604 N.

Dement Ave., a History teacher at Dixon High School where he also coaches sophomore football is married and has four children.

He is a graduate of Monticello High School, and later earned his B.A. and M.A. degrees in Education at Illinois State University.

Jordan spent two years in the U.S. Army with the finance corps. He is a member of the Nation, State and City Educational Associations, and the Coaches' Association of Illinois.

"As a teacher in our public schools, I feel it is my responsibility to become involved in community affairs. If I am going to teach my students how to become good citizens, it is necessary that I provide an example," Jordan said.

He said if elected he would pursue the following projects: increased activity in winter months; activities for all age groups; family swim night; an instructional baseball clinic; additional boat docks; and improvements of the present baseball diamond.

John F. Humphreys

John F. Humphreys, 57, lives at 920 Cooper St., with his wife, Goldie, and is presently associated with the Reuter Real Estate agency.

He is a WW II veteran and served in the U.S. Coast Guard as a chief boatswain mate. HHH Meets With Pope Paul Today

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Pope Paul VI today discussed world peace for 30 minutes in what Vatican aides called an "unusually warm" private audience.

Humphrey gave the Roman Catholic pontiff a desk clock and the Pope, deep in work toward an end to the Vietnam war, said, "let us hope it may soon mark the hour of peace."

Vatican sources said the Pope and Humphrey discussed "world peace in general" and Vietnam in particular. Details of their private talk were not available.

They said Pope Paul was especially pleased by Humphrey's visit although he has discussed Vietnam with a number of high U.S. officials the past few years. Humphrey was the highest American official to be ushered into the Pope's private library since President Kennedy's visit in 1963.

Italian Carabinieri (national police) and papal Swiss guards guarded Humphrey almost as overwhelmingly as they did Kennedy. They aimed at preventing any more of the "get out of Vietnam" demonstrations that marred the first two days of Humphrey's Italian leg of his western European tour.

LBJ Entertains Latin-American Envoys in Texas

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson got a running start on this month's south-of-the-border summit meeting by entertaining 29 Latin-American diplomats today in his native Texas hill country.

Johnson and wife Lady Bird flew the envoys to Texas Friday night aboard the presidential jet for a red-carpet weekend. Some of the features: pom pon girls, an LBJ ranch barbecue and a busy program of entertainment built around an historical pageant called "The Texas Fandangle."

All this was in anticipation of Johnson's trip to Punta del Este, Uruguay, for meetings April 12-14 with fellow presidents from the Western Hemisphere. The welcome mat will be out there — as it was here — for all except representatives of Communist Cuba.

The diplomats who gathered here with Johnson — they are accredited either to the U.S. government or to the Organization of American States — were holding what amounted to a warmup for Punta del Este.

As Johnson told a welcoming crowd of several thousand at San Antonio, where his big jet set down, he was talking individually with his guests about hemisphere problems and "about things that are to come."

The dean of Washington's diplomatic corps, Ambassador

Guillermo Sevilla-Sacasa of Nicaragua, responded warmly by labeling the weekend get-together "a family affair."

Savilla-Sacasa and the other envoys, many of them accompanied by their wives, spent the night in San Antonio, some 7 miles south of the Johnson ranch.

The highlight of the program arranged for the visitors today was a three-hour visit to the ranch, where white-hatted chefs worked hours in advance to prepare a Texas-style barbecue and local-talent entertainers prepped for the "Fandangle" recreating frontier days in the Southwest.

Punta del Este remains the focal point of the sessions, however. It is there the American nations hope to give a new forward push to the Alliance for Progress and pledge a start toward the creation of a Latin-American common market.

Teamsters Union Sets Vote on Strike Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The giant Teamsters Union starts taking a strike vote today in its first nationwide showdown with the trucking industry.

A major segment of the industry threatened to lock out some 200,000 workers if the Teamsters carry out their strategy of striking a few companies at a time.

"There will be an immediate and complete cessation of our operations" in the event of a strike against any firms, said President M.M. Gordon of Trucking Employers Inc.

Both Gordon and Teamsters officials said they saw little hope of an agreement in their national trucking contract talks during the weekend.

1,500 Major Firms
Trucking Employers Inc. represents 1,500 major transcontinental firms that carry about 65 per cent of the nation's truck cargoes.

A shutdown by these companies also would severely crimp 10,000 smaller firms involved in the negotiations that serve largely as feeder lines between the big firms.

The crisis was the first for the 1.8 million-member Teamsters Union since its president, James R. Hoffa, went to prison several weeks ago. The outcome could affect political maneuvering for control of the world's largest union.

Federal mediators stepped into the talks in an attempt to narrow the big gap of 19 cents an hour between the Teamsters demands and the industry's last offer.

The union, which originally demanded 75 cents per hour over three years, scaled that down to 56 cents. The industry responded with a 37-cent offer.

The union's money demand does not include higher mileage pay rates for long-haul truck drivers, numerous fringe benefits and new equipment also being asked.

Gordon said figuring in all items, the union demands total 95 cents an hour per worker over three years and the industry's last offer totals 49 cents.

Two Killed in Truck-Train Crash in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — A five-coach passenger train collided today with a truck at an unmanned crossing, near Osaka, central Japan. The first two coaches were derailed on the bridge ahead and plunged into the Onosato river 15 feet below.

Osaka police reported two passengers confirmed dead and about 270 persons injured, many seriously.

Patrol cars and ambulances were shuttling the casualties to nearby hospitals.

The accident occurred on the Nankai railway, a privately run line.

Osaka is 250 miles west of Tokyo.

money necessary to finance services best administered locally. Such rebates would be distributed to the states with no strings attached on a per capita basis."

He said these funds should then be allocated to counties and cities for use in the urban areas, "wherever such a plan is feasible."

"Experience has proved that the federal government is indeed a fickle patron. Many communities have found to their sorrow that termination of a specific program of federal aid has left them bereft of their initiative and totally incapable of meeting the emergency which resulted," Ogilvie added.

Among the several supervisors and commissioners from the 24-county area, other representatives and state senators were on hand to answer questions relative to proposed legislation and progress of bills endorsed by the Illinois Association of Supervisors and County Commissioners.

Seek Owners For 5 Dogs

TAKE ME HOME

The dog pictured above is one of five dogs now at the city pound who will have to be destroyed within a reasonable time, unless they are claimed by their owners, or someone wishes to provide a home for them.

Robert Mulkins, dog catcher, said the dog pictured is a white female shepherd mixture. She is one to two years old and quite playful.

Other dogs include a two-month-old puppy, male and a beagle mixture with brown, black and white coloring; a small black and tan female mixed breed of six months old; a black female mixture and a collie shepherd mixture, female.

Mulkins said the dogs may be seen at the pound by calling either the office of the county veterinarian, Dr. R. C. Atkins, 284-3833 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily or Mulkins' home at 284-7823 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

State Police Report Area Accidents

WEST BROOKLYN — Rev. Andrew Noxon, pastor of the Ashton EUB Church, was arrested after an accident Friday morning at the intersection of the West Brooklyn spur and U.S. 30.

State Police said the Rev. Mr. Noxon was southbound on the spur when his car "ran a stop sign" and collided with a car driven by Kenneth Durland, 46, of Aurora, which was westbound on U.S. 30.

The 47-year-old minister was arrested for disregarding a stop sign. His car sustained an estimated $1,000 damage. Damage to Durland's auto was estimated at $300.

Robert Cottle, 44, of Dixon, was arrested for driving too fast for conditions at about 5 p.m. Friday after an accident on the 1100 block of East River Road here.

State Police said his car rammed into the rear of an auto driven by Joyce A. Johnson, 19, of Dixon. Both cars were eastbound.

Torn Sections Of $5, $20 Bills Found

Jack Andresen, Dewey Hotel resident, Friday night turned over to police several torn sections of $5 and $20 bills he said he found stuffed in a toilet at the hotel.

Unable to determine how much the torn bills represent, or if they are counterfeit, authorities called in Robert Castle, assistant cashier at Dixon National Bank.

Castle today said the ripped money will be sent to the Federal Reserve Bank, Chicago, to determine if it can be pieced together and salvaged.

Should no one claim the money, and it is salvagable, the money would go to Andresen, police said. An investigation at the hotel is being conducted to determine who stuffed the bills in the toilet, and if more money can be found.

Jury Finds 3 Milledgeville Men Guilty

After deliberating some five hours the jury found Lynn Fosset, 20; Richard Massey, 18, and Dan Wynn, 24, guilty of beating Edward Shippert, 22, in a driveway at 606 E. Second St.

He is a member of the Evening Lions Club; Dixon Dance Club; and attends St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Sublette Man Is Charged

Dixon police today charged a Sublette man with illegal transportation of liquor in a motor vehicle after his car was stopped by patrolmen when it was observed traveling without headlights.

Referendum Vote Is Slated

Lee County voters will decide on the fate of the Mental Health Referendum on April 4.

The Mississippi Mental Health Center has been praised by Dr. Harold Visotsky, director of the Illinois Department of Mental Health, as being "an outstanding example of a community board mental health clinic in the Midwest."

Future plans of the clinic include the beginning of a 24-hour phone call service, an adolescent counseling unit for working with delinquents and an expansion of community service.

This will mean that the community services available to pastors, doctors, teachers and school counselors will be increased. Educational programs will also receive greater emphasis.

Driver Charged After Accident

Dominic B. Kurzrock, 16, 318 Ottawa Ave., Friday was charged with a traffic violation after his car collided with another while he was backing it from a private lot.

Kurzrock's car, police said, was backing from a lot onto Fifth Street in the 700 block when it crashed into the auto owned by Evelyn M. Rhodes, 522 Hennepin Ave.

County Medical Society Backs Referendum

Dr. Donald Edwards, president, County Medical Society, has endorsed the mental health referendum to be voted on Tuesday.

He gave several reasons why he feels the referendum should be passed. "First," he said, "Lee County is fortunate in having fine mental health services on a local level. This is important in that it provides help to people right here in the county. Before, these people had to travel many miles to receive such services."

"Further," Dr. Edwards commented, "the community services which this mental health program provides are a vital asset to schools, doctors, pastors and other persons and agencies involved in working with and helping people."

"Having mental health services available helps to make the work of these persons and agencies much more effective."

"Finally," the doctor continued, "having local mental health facilities and services is the best way to insure adequate help to our own county residents on an immediate basis. It is important to all of us to keep these services available. I would especially urge the voters to support the mental health referendum and be sure to come out and vote 'yes' on Tuesday."

19th Victim of Delta Jet Crash Discovered

KENNER, La. (UPI) — The death toll from Thursday's Delta DC8 crash has risen to 19 with the discovery of the body of an 18-year-old dishwasher who was killed while hitchhiking a ride home.

The body of Clarence Johnson, almost cut in half, fell from the wreckage late Friday when investigators pulled away the tail section of the plane from a passageway of the Hilton Inn, where Johnson worked as a dishwasher.

Johnson, who had begun working at the Motel March 22, was killed while hitchhiking along a street adjacent to the motel when the plane crashed and skidded across the street. He had stayed late to work at a party given for the Juda, Wis.,

High School senior class which was on its annual trip.

Flown Home

Nine girls of the 32-member vacationing class were killed in their motel rooms. A Delta transport flew their bodies to Madison, Wis., Friday night. The other victims included an assistant engineer at the motel, a mother and son in a house a block from the motel and six persons aboard the airplane.

The plane was on a training flight to check out a DC9 pilot and an engineer on the larger DC8. A Delta instructor and a Federal Aviation Agency official were aboard to check out the pilot and two Delta engineers were checking out the engineer.

Everything Fine
The Delta instructor, Maurice

Edward (Bud) Watson, told the tower everything was fine as the 135-passenger airliner came in for a landing. David Breeding, a 10-year veteran with the FAA, told Watson from the tower:

"Delta 9877 clear touch and go (landing) or cleared to land Runway 1."

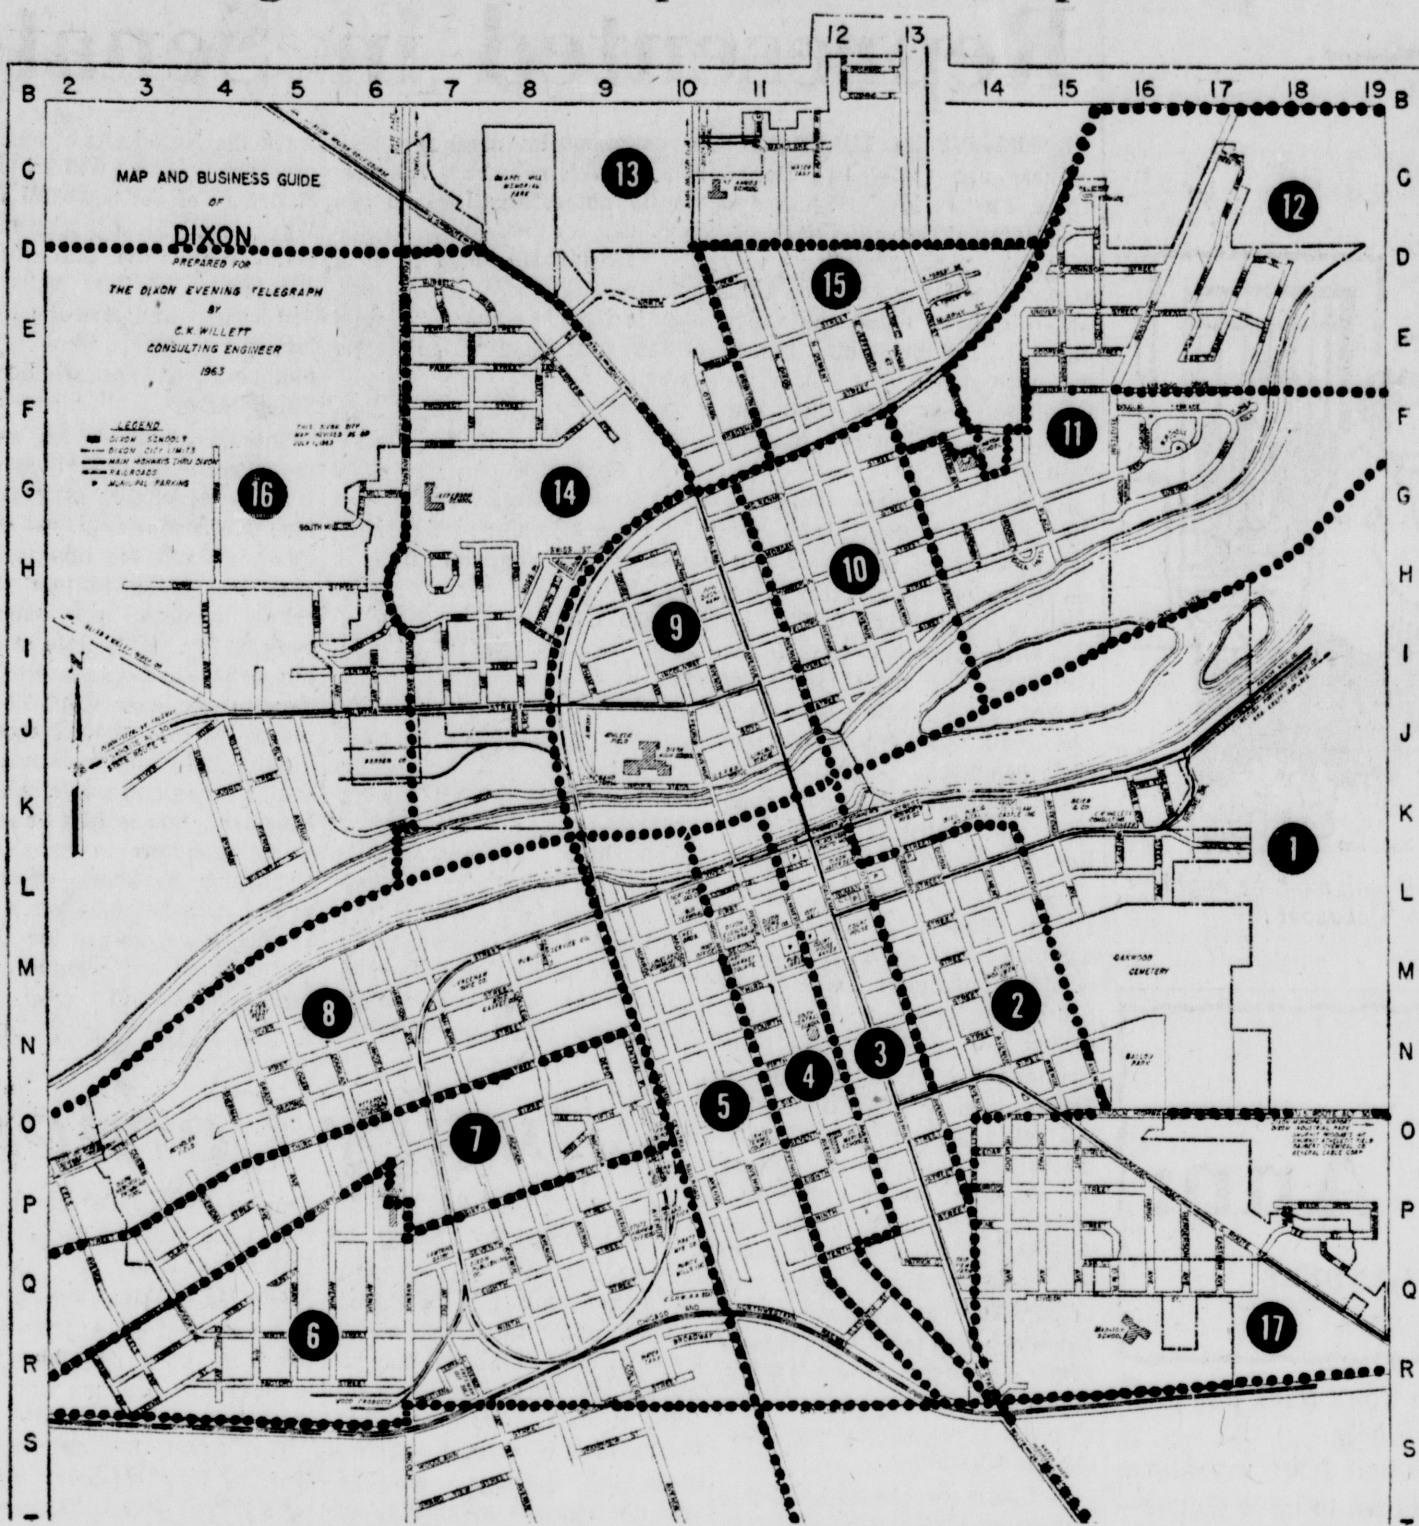

"Okay. We'll land straight in. We'll make another takeoff," Watson said.

"Okay. You want to take off south?" Breeding asked.

"Be fine," Watson said, the last words spoken from the craft.

That was 21-2 minutes and five miles from the airport. Watson was in the co-pilots seat and James M. Morton, making his final checkout flight, was the pilot.

TOKYO (UPI) — A 20-year-old coed was injured by an air-gun pellet today while riding atop the campaign car of a Communist-backed political candidate.

EPERNEY, France (UPI) — French Champagne production bubbled up to nearly 87 million bottles last year, a 10 per cent increase over 1965, a spokesman for the industry said today.

He said Britain showed its "solidarity with Europe" by buying 5.5 million bottles, which made it the biggest champagne importer. The United States, which bought 4.1 million bottles, was third.

Increasing Ag Imports May Be Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increasing agricultural imports show signs of ballooning into a major farm and political issue. They tend to aggravate a farm economic situation plagued by declining farm prices and income.

Foreign supplies are having a particularly marked effect domestically on milk and dairy products, meats and cotton products. The Johnson administration, after several months of agitation by farm groups and farm belt congressmen, has initiated action to cut back on dairy imports.

But nothing is in the works to change conditions allowing more meats and cotton textiles to enter the United States.

Dairy product imports increased 300 per cent last year over 1965 and a further increase of 50 per cent or more appeared likely this year unless checked by tightened import quotas. Much of the unrest over milk prices has been attributed by dairy leaders to this increase of competitive products from overseas.

Imports of meat increased 34 per cent last year and the Agriculture Department has forecast a further increase this year. The government has authority to set import quotas, but the department says the increase will not be sufficient to trigger such controls.

The Indian government has denied that it refused to grant her asylum and has hinted strongly that it is prepared to give her refuge.

Although the U.S. government has cautiously expressed willingness to give her refuge, it is sure to be wary of any political embarrassment in a period of improving relations with the Soviet Union.

Informed sources say Switzerland almost certainly will not become her adopted country. Indications are that the government feels already that it has taken on a job too hot to handle.

They cite reports from India that she has become a Hindu and is not likely to want to return to her homeland, where religion is discouraged.

Swiss and foreign diplomats say a process of elimination makes India the most likely sanctuary for 42-year-old Svetlana.

Washington said it had issued her a visa for a short-term stay in America and would consider any definite request for refuge if she should decide to make one.

Since March 11 the daughter of the late Soviet dictator has been dodging from one Swiss mountain hideaway to another, pursued by newsmen and photographers. She wound up in Switzerland after traveling from New Delhi, India, where she asked the U.S. Embassy for asylum on March 6.

The sources say a return to the Soviet Union is out for religious and political reasons and that the United States and Switzerland are not eager for another prickly diplomatic issue.

Voice of the People

To the Editor:

Twelve townships elect supervisors Tuesday. In a poll conducted by the Telegraph and reported in the issues of March 10 and 11, of the 19 candidates for supervisor all but seven either outrightly favored more liquor licenses in the county or would if it meant "progress" or if the licenses went to "proper" persons. One of these seven refused to comment. Among the six candidates for assistant supervisor in Dixon Township only one, Courtney Schafer, opposed issuing more licenses.

The six candidates for supervisor who oppose additional licenses are all incumbents. All but Clarence Herbst of China are unopposed.

Is this issue important? As reported March 22, the Liquor Committee of the Board of Supervisors has voted to recommend raising the number of Class A (hard) liquor licenses from 10 to 11. Is this just a general liberalizing of the restrictions? Are there likely applicants? There may be several if the limit is raised, but it is common knowledge that one Dixon man in particular is desirous of securing such a license for an already established business outside the city limits.

Some years ago the supervisors refused to be pushed into granting a similar license to a most insistent applicant east of Dixon on Alt. U.S. 30. It is to be hoped that the current attempt to secure a license for an establishment set up with questionable legality in the first place will meet with no better success.

To that end voters in next Tuesday's election might do well to read again (if necessary at the Public Library or The Telegraph office) the statements of the various candidates. Particularly in China and Dixon townships there is a real choice. Incidentally, we vote at the same election on a modest tax levy for the support of local mental health services. Ask people working in that field whether there's any connection between mental health problems and beverage alcohol. It wouldn't hurt to vote consistently for both men and measures!

One Who Tries To.

Dear Editor:
I think an explanation is due from State's Atty. Henry S. Dixon about the dismissal of charges against Wayne Hoyle. Why is it that Henry S. Dixon had the right to see that a fine was assessed against the youths involved, but not Hoyle? Is it because of him being employed by the federal government at the ASC office in Amboy? Hoyle illegally sold liquor to minors! It is he that should be fined and punished, not the store owner. An employee (regardless of who should be responsible for selling liquor to minors.

In other counties the party selling it to minors is held responsible or subject to fine. I think it is high time we of this county enforce our laws.

Where is all the nonsense going to end? What good does it do to have laws? Parents and responsible adults better start waking up!

Another thing. I don't believe this is the first party selling liquor to minors in our area. Did our city and rural people ever look at the road sides—highway, county or township roads. It looks like the beer, whisky and wine bottles were sown. Is this all the work of teenagers? Or are some adults included, too?

It sure is a disgusting sight! In some places they have even dumped the liquor containers out by the basket and sack full. I think it is high time that 5 cents be added onto the cost of all liquor (per can or bottle) that is sold for take out purposes, whether it be a package liquor store or tavern. This 5 cents would apply to the cost (salary) of picking the cans and bottles up along the roads.

How about it township supervisors?

Yours truly,
A parent.

Dear Editor:
Can benefits be obtained by improving the economic security of registered nurses? Nurses think so.

First it will help nursing recruitment. There is no way to avert the importance in our society of salary as an important criterion in job selection. Young people are well aware of nursing's underpaid status.

It is encouraging that more men are entering nursing but low salary prospects keep this number down. The American Nurses Association recommends that employers adopt a statewide minimum starting salary of $6,500 per year for newly graduated RN's. Such a salary shows the value of the nurses' service to society. Men and women entering nursing deserve reimbursement for their investment in education. Local starting salaries presently offered are $406 per month at Community General Hospital and $415 a month at KSB Hospital. These do not show the worth of nursing in relation to other professions and occupations. When unskilled jobs are available at the same salary level, what incentive is there to continue one's education?

Better staffing of health facilities by RN's would be a second benefit. Staffing problems definitely affect the public as well as nurses since understaffing lowers the quality of patient care. Community hospitals are at a disadvantage when hiring new nurses since the Dixon State School of fers about $70 per month more and raises most of its nurses to $545 per month after a year. An additional $10 or $15 per month is all that community hospitals pay nurses who have worked a year.

Usually day positions are most easily filled but what about the evening and night shifts? The ANA recommends salary differentials amounting to 10 per cent of the monthly salary for evening and night shifts. These shifts must be made attractive to lure married RN's from their homes. How many people would be encouraged to work evenings for an extra 50 cents a day. That is what KSB Hospital offers. Community General Hospital pays about an extra dollar a day. DSS has no differential. Since hospitals must be staffed seven days a week and 24 hours a day, employers may also have to improve pay for weekends and holidays. It is sad when nurses who work full-time must consider themselves lucky if they have one weekend a month off duty.

A third benefit of increased salaries would be the keeping of nurses in nursing. Some RN's leave nursing to find higher paying jobs. Many with children give up nursing because of costly child care expenses. More RN's with grown families might return to nursing if salaries were higher. We need them!

The Doctor Says

By W. G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—My doctor says I have lupus erythematosus. What is the cause and what can be done for it?

A—The cause of this disease cannot always be determined, but in many victims the disease is caused by taking certain antibiotics (penicillin, tetracycline, streptomycin or griseofulvin), sulfa drugs, hydralazine, phenylbutazone, procainamide, pyriminylthiourea and others. The disease is characterized by a scaly red eruption, frequently limited to the cheeks and bridge of the nose (butterfly pattern). Sunlight aggravates the patches.

Although this is a serious disease when it spreads beyond the skin and involves the lymph nodes, joints, lungs, digestive tract, kidneys and nervous system, great strides have been made in its treatment. In the early stages salicylates and antimalarial drugs will control the disease. For acute flare-ups, drugs of the cortisone group are used. Although no cure is known, such drugs as mechlorethamine, mercaptopurine and cyclophosphamide have been helpful even in the advanced stages.

BERRY'S WORLD

"He says he's been getting so much junk mail, he might as well change his name to 'Occupant!'"

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I hope you won't think this problem is too goofy to print. I do need help.

Every night before I get into bed I set my alarm clock. After I turn the light out I begin to have doubts—"Did I set the alarm or didn't I?"

Now mind you, Ann Landers, I know very well I set the alarm, but I am not satisfied until I turn on the light and check at least three times.

Can it be that I am cracking up at the age of 17? Please answer soon because I am not getting any better.

—FLIPPED OUT

Dear Flipped: Almost everyone has some secret little compulsion. This is yours.

Here is a gimmick that might help you beat it. The next time you set the alarm clock, put a rubber band around your left wrist. When you begin to have doubts, feel for the rubber band. It will serve as evidence that you did indeed set the alarm.

Dear Ann Landers: I noticed in Wall Street Warrior Number Two's reply he said, "As far as sex is concerned, forget it. That went dead in a dry martini."

I would like to know, WHOSE martini? His or hers? This has been the basis for quite an argument between me and a friend. He says liquor intensifies the sex drive of a female but it diminishes the sex drive of a male. I say liquor intensifies the sex drive of both male and female. Who is right? —OPEN TO ELUCIDATION

Dear Open: Alcohol does not intensify the sex drive of either male or female; it simply removes the inhibitions. This does not mean booze makes people sexier, it merely means it impairs the judgment and people are inclined to do things they would not do if they were sober. Individuals who have had a great deal to drink may find they are unable to function sexually because the booze has knocked out the mental machinery and no messages are reaching the brain.

Dear Ann Landers: Your letter to the girl who had epilepsy entitles you to the heartfelt thanks of every person in the world who has the illness. You have done innumerable services for all kinds of people, Ann, but no service can be greater than giving an epileptic the courage to face his illness without shame.

Three years ago I was told I had epilepsy. After I got over feeling sorry for myself I thanked God I didn't have anything worse. But you can't imagine the change in people's voices when they discover you are an epileptic. I was so devastated by the reaction of my close friends that I decided never to tell anyone again.

Please, Ann Landers, mention this subject from time to time. You have a rare opportunity to educate the public in a way that no one else can. God bless you. —ONE WHO CAN'T EVEN SIGN HER INITIALS

Dear One: I have received hundreds of letters from epileptics who expressed gratitude for an understanding of the illness. My thanks to all of you for your generous comments.

If anyone wants educational material, including literature, films and general information, write to The Epilepsy Association of America, 111 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10010.

Two Democratic Parties Represented in Senate

By RALPH De TOLEDANO

There are really two Democratic Parties in the Senate and the House today. Political observers, picking their way among the booby traps on Capitol Hill, have noted the widening rift. At the White House, minimize differences which the Democratic—or New—Left emphasizes ever more strongly with each debate.

But the White House is alarmed, and this alarm has been translated into news stories deploring the attacks on the administration by New Left spokesmen in and out of the Congress. The major issue, of course, is Vietnam, but there are underlying psychological and ideological causes for the rift. Ambition enters the picture, too, in the shape of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

On the Senate side, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, a well-meaning but weak man, has been drawn into dove-like politics of the New Left. Though he should be, in most ways, the President's representative in the Senate, Sen. Mansfield has repeatedly undercut the administration by his pronouncements on Vietnam and his repeated calls for the kind of negotiation with the Communists that could only lead to appeasement and defeat. This, at any rate, is the thinking of the White House, which strongly resented Mr. Mansfield's "appeal" to the President just as he was leaving for Guam.

In diplomatic circles here, this was believed to be an effort to undercut Mr. Johnson at a time when he was meeting with Free World leaders to dramatize American determination and to reassure them that the United States was not planning to back down. It paralleled the efforts of another member of the New Left faction, Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who has used his pivotal position to focus attention on the small but vocal group of anti-Vietnam acts.

Senators Kennedy, Fulbright, and Mansfield—however removed they may be from the thinking of a majority of Americans—do have considerable muscle on Capitol Hill. They are joined on key votes by members like Vance Hartke of Indiana, Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Lee Metcalfe of Montana, Frank Church of Idaho, and Wayne Morse of Oregon, as well as others who drift in and out of the New Left caucus. And they have a measure of support from Republicans like Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and other so-called moderates.

President Johnson, therefore, is confronted by a situation that makes him rely on the opposition. Without Minority Leader Everett McKinley Dirksen, the White House would be in a bad way indeed, and it makes no bones about its need for GOP help. As this columnist has previously noted, Mr. Dirksen can ironically lay claim to being the first Republican leader of a Democratic Senate. It is perhaps the most dramatic proof of the split in the Democratic party.

The President's troubles with a divided party are not limited to the Senate. In the House, he must contend with Speaker John McCormack, whose other shortcomings are compounded by a streak of stubbornness. Mr. McCormack, too, is given to making ill-timed statements on Vietnam and other foreign policy matters. And he has shown that whatever capabilities he may have for leadership are certainly not directed toward sustaining Mr. Johnson.

The House, which was once stringently ruled by the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, is now controlled by the Democratic Study Group, an internal organization whose politics lean at an increasingly sharper angle toward the New Left. Strong Congressmen, like Wilbur Mills, chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, could carry the ball for the President. But Mr. Mills is a Southerner and therefore ideologically suspect among the members of the Democratic Study Group.

With Mr. Mills in the saddle, the President would have a House he could count on. But Mr. McCormack is not about to resign and the liberal-left is even less likely to join Democratic loyalists in a move to project Mr. Mills into a position where he could challenge the present leadership. The net result is the floundering on Capitol Hill which every day becomes more noticeable. For the President, this is bad news and it will continue to be so until he begins to knock heads together. Otherwise, what is now an ideological gap in the Democratic Party will become an unbridgeable chasm.

Miss Beverly Gebrt Becomes Bride of Mr. Heller Saturday

Arrangements of white carnations trimmed the altar of Immanuel Lutheran Church when marriage vows were spoken by Miss Beverly Jean Gehrt and Robert C. Heller in a wedding performed at 3 p.m. Saturday by the Rev. R. G. Magel, pastor of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gehrt, Rt. 4, Dixon, are parents of the bride, and Mr. Heller is the son of Mrs. Harold Freadhoff, Sublette, and Clayton Heller, Ashton.

Musicians
Crawford Thomas, organist for the double-ring ceremony, accompanied Mrs. Robert Knick as she sang "The Day of Golden Promise" and "Wedding Prayer," and decorations for the church sanctuary included bouquets of Easter lilies and white satin pew-bows. Saturday's bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in a wedding gown fashioned of white peau de soie and Alencon lace. Long sleeves tapering to wristpoints and a scooped neckline edged with pearl-embroidered lace were features of the gown's molded bodice which topped a floor length sheath skirt accented by a front panel of lace trimmed with bridal pearls. A bouffant peau de soie overskirt which extended into a chapel train, was attached to a waistband caught with a tailored front-bow, and her three-tiered illusion veil was held by a headpiece of lace and organza pearl-trimmed petals. White phalaenopsis orchids centered her cascading bouqu of white and peach-tinted hyacinth florets.

The full length gown of blue mist linen worn by the maid of honor, Miss Susan Thompson, was styled with an A-line skirt and a fitted bodice featuring bell sleeves with inserts of applique lace. Attached streamers fell from a tailored back-bow which trimmed the gown's square neckline, and her headdress was a blue organza bow edged with pearls and encircled by matching veiling.

Mentally designed gowns and headpieces in pistachio green linen were worn by the attendants, Mrs. Robert Egbert, Peoria, and Miss Barbara Blum. White wrist length gloves completed their costumes, and the pearl necklaces they wore were gifts from the bride. Apricot and yellow carnations were combined in the cascading arrangements they carried.

Orange accessories complemented the dress of beige lace and silk shantung chosen by Mrs. Gehrt for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece beige linen and lace dress with a matching coat and orange accessories. Both selected shoulder corsages of Zorinna roses and tangerine carnations.

Attending Mr. Heller as best man was James Bernotas, Amboy, and acting as groomsmen were Robert Egbert, Peoria, and Roger Heller, Ashton. Wedding guests from Dixon, Ashton, Amboy, Sublette, Peoria and from Memphis, Tenn., were ushered by Gary Jones, Amboy, and Dennis Gehrt.

Reception
The church fellowship hall was the scene of a reception held following the service when the refreshment table was covered with blue linen and an overlay of white net. A three-tiered cake topped by a nosegay of blue and white flowers centered the table, and the bride's table held a centerpiece of white gladioli and blue daisies. Mrs. Dean Helton and Mrs. James Bernotas served the wedding cake as punch and coffee were poured by Miss Vickie Freadhoff and Mrs. Gordon Griffith, and presiding at the gift display were Miss Sandra Thier and Miss Patricia Dinges. Guests attending the reception were registered by Miss Patricia Heller.

For their wedding trip to southern Illinois, the new Mrs. Heller wore an orange and beige two-piece dress with a matching coat and beige accessories. A graduate of Amboy High School, she was employed as a bookkeeper at the Dixon National Bank prior to her marriage. Mr. Heller, also a graduate of the Amboy school, recently returned from Army service in Thailand, and is presently stationed at Fort Stewart, Ga., where they will be residing.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT C. HELLER

The program also included a citizenship lesson on Civil Defense by Mrs. Edward Fane, and a health and safety lesson by Mrs. Charles Nix included a discussion on "Highway Safety." Benefits of the Lee County Extension Referendum were described, and Mrs. Joseph Engelbrecht, Franklin Grove, spoke on the Mental Health Referendum. Values of a Newspaper Route

BOYS of newspaperboy age are in a critical period of development. They are being molded for life's future assignments and responsibilities. What these boys do with their excess energy and their excess time has a strong relation to how they come through this important stage and how they'll fare later.

A boy who operates his own business, as a newspaperboy does, is investing his excess time and energy in a way that will pay dividends for the rest of his life. He is doing something constructive, he is on his own, he is learning things you'll never learn from books or in classrooms and, in addition, he's earning his way at the same time.

The benefits of newspaperboy route training are things that a parent or a teacher can not give a boy. It is the intangible benefits, such as learning how to deal with people, how to make occasional sacrifices and how to overcome obstacles, that make a boy a better man.

For proof, one need only note the many famous people who used their early newspaper route work as a stepping stone in achieving their goals later in life.

DID YOU KNOW?

Commander William Robert Anderson, Skipper of the Atomic Submarine "Nautilus"; First to Navigate the Polar Ice Cap was one of many former Prominent newspaper boys.

"So I often play a game with my children and will whisper, 'I love you.'"
"If they hear me and indicate that fact, I reward them with some gift or half a dollar in change."
"Don't you think it is wise to tell your youngsters that you love them?"
Yes, it is certainly desirable that parents verbalize their love, both for their children and the other parent. But children need far more than a perfunctory "whisper game" like Hal's. For Hal should have spent more time playing with them, going camping and otherwise setting a strong, affectionate example. Instead, he farmed out his children to boarding schools and summer camps so his youngsters looked on him as a benevolent "stranger" or "visitor" and not their daily tutor, guide and disciplinarian. Hal died when his children were not quite old enough to vote. He left them trust funds running into millions of dollars. But within a year his daughter hired lawyers to break her trust fund. And his son was found dead in his apartment a couple of years later, apparently a suicide. Those occasional evening games where Hal would whisper, "I love you," were undoubtedly valuable. But being a good parent is not merely a matter of a few minutes of affection at bedtime! It is a continual job that runs for at least 18 years.

Moreover, it is often boring, irritating, nerve-racking and awesome, especially when you realize that you are sculpturing in human clay. Boy Scout leaders, Sunday School teachers and summer camp advisers are a great help, but they should not be regarded as complete substitutes for real parents! Children differ radically in their reaction to the same set of rules, so one youngster may obey your spoken commands while another may ignore them and even laugh during corporal punishment. Besides, you must imitate the fisherman who gives a few feet of line to a game fish which is threatening to break loose. Then, when the fish is more subdued the skillful fisherman reels him back to the boat. So it is when rearing children! During a period of temporary hostility or stubbornness, it is often wise to look away and avoid a costly face-to-face confrontation. Good parents realize that business duties, household chores and civic responsibilities should always run SECOND to the vital task of sculpturing a self-reliant, God-fearing personality out of that original 7 or 8 pounds of animate clay. So send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c and use them as yardsticks. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

I BELIEVE IN FREE ENTERPRISE; WHAT IS FREE ENTERPRISE?

Basically, the FREE ENTERPRISE SYSTEM means freedom of the individual. Under the free enterprise system, the individual is free to make something of himself. (IF HE HAS THE ENTERPRISE TO DO IT). Too many people put too much emphasis on (FREE) and to little on (ENTERPRISE):
In a Free Nation the State gets it's rights from the people.
While in a slave nation, the people get their rights, if any from the State. More and more of our rights are coming from the State. We must support and keep our Local Government, our friends and neighbors. We must not become a voice in the dark or just another number on a Business Machine Punch Card.
To preserve, THE REPUBLIC OF AMERICA, THE DEVOTED EFFORTS OF EACH AND EVERY LOYAL AMERICAN IS NEEDED.

Were you a "Poisson d'Avril" today? . . . or perhaps a "gowk" or even a "Schaafkopf"? . . . in France, the victim of an April's Fool joke is called a "Poisson d'Avril" — that is — a fish of April or a silly fish . . . the Scotch call him a "gowk" which means simpleton and cuckoo (gawk) is the Americanization) . . . in Germany you are a sheep's head or "schaafkopf".

Guess we have always had fools, but it is believed that April Fools have been around for only a thousand years . . . scholars used to believe it all started with the miracle plays of the Dark Ages . . . at one time it was believed to represent sending Christ from Annas to Caiaphas — and from Pilate to Herod . . . then it was decided that April Fool evolved when the beginning of the year was changed from April 1st to January 1st and the people turned the first of April into a mock New Year's and burlesqued all the solemn and social observances of the day.

Records have been found that April Fool's jokes were in evidence when the British rule was well established in India . . . the Hindus now practice tricks on the first of March during the Huli festival . . . on very ancient monuments, April is depicted by a dancing youth with a rattle in his hand — another proof that something in the season itself suggested sports and practical jokes.

U.S. Combat Deaths Up 66 Per Cent Over 1966

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new savagery of the Vietnam war has propelled U.S. combat deaths to levels 66 per cent above last year's average weekly losses. Communist fatalities are reported up 80 per cent.

A study of Pentagon figures shows American deaths so far this year are averaging 160 a week, compared with 96 in 1966. Enemy dead the first 12 weeks of 1967 has averaged about 1,800, compared with about 1,000 last year.

Communist forces are suffering even greater casualties in proportion to their strength.

The military estimates the Communists have sustained 33,000 wounded in addition to 22,000 dead thus far this year.

Military spokesmen admit the count of enemy dead is far from precise, and at best a haphazard and sometimes extrapolated estimate of bodies found on the battlefield. The wounded count is pure guesswork. Nevertheless, officials believe the rough tally is useful in assessing the impact of the war on the enemy's force levels.

The toll of 55,000 amounts to nearly 20 per cent of the enemy's 1967 average strength of 281,000.

By contrast the over-all U.S. casualties the first quarter of this year — 14,100 including 1,916 killed and 12,184 wounded — represent 3.5 per cent of the 1967 average strength, 404,000.

If U.S. casualties continued at the same rate in relation to troop strength for the remainder of 1967, they would total for the year about 15.2 per cent of average strength.

Last year's 35,000 casualties represented about 12.7 per cent of the average U.S. troop strength during 1966.

Earlier this year, Ambassador to Vietnam Henry Cabot Lodge predicted that "the percentage of American casualties will start declining."

The current deadly tempo of fighting was illustrated Thursday as the military command in Saigon announced the United States suffered a record 274 men killed in fighting last week. This compares with the Korean war's weekly average of 235 over 37 months.

At the current rate of losses, the United States could sustain 61,000 casualties this year, approaching Korea's first and most bloody 12 months of battle.

Projecting the first quarter's weekly averages of killed and wounded through 1967 escalates U.S. losses to 8,320 killed and 52,780 wounded for the year. Korea's first year claimed 74,700 casualties — 21,000 killed and 53,700 wounded.

If this projection held true, the American commitment of life and limb in southeast Asia since 1961 would surge by the end of this year to 104,482 casualties — 14,964 dead, 89,518 wounded.

In the entire Korean campaign, 33,629 American servicemen were killed in action. Another 103,284 were wounded. World War II killed 291,557 U.S. fighting men and wounded 470,846.

As of last Saturday, the count of American dead in the Vietnam war totaled 8,560, with 49,922 wounded.

Many of the wounded suffered relatively minor injuries.

A Pentagon analysis between January 1965 and October 1966 showed that of 29,922 men who were wounded, 13,411 or just over 45 per cent returned to duty without requiring hospitalization.

Of the remaining 16,211, nearly three-fourths, 11,723, returned to duty, most in Vietnam, after recuperating a short time; 484 left service due to disability; 409 died; and the remaining 3,505 remained in the hospital, with doctors estimating that half would return to duty.

Records have been found that April Fool's jokes were in evidence when the British rule was well established in India . . . the Hindus now practice tricks on the first of March during the Huli festival . . . on very ancient monuments, April is depicted by a dancing youth with a rattle in his hand — another proof that something in the season itself suggested sports and practical jokes.

Physical Panorama '67 Is Smash Hit

—Telegraph Photo

The Record Holders

Bob Fox, left, a DHS freshman, received the congratulations of Dave Pottorff, a senior, following the completion of situp competition. Fox established a new school and state situp record of 5,000, which snapped the old DHS mark of 1,850 and the former state mark of 2,300. Pottorff, who had held the DHS mark, ended the night with 4,100.

New State Sit-Up Mark Established

By IRA G. KELLY
Telegraph Sports Editor

Physical Panorama—'67, round one, has gone down in DHS history as the most successful and had the largest opening night audience to ever witness the extravaganza.

More than 2,000 persons jammed Lancaster Gymnasium and stalled the opening of the show for more than 13 minutes while last minute ticket sales forced the opening of an additional booth in an effort to accommodate the crowd.

And with an almost standing room only crowd, the performers did not disappoint the spectators. It was physical fitness to perfection from the opening moments until the closing note of God Bless America.

Standing Ovation

The crowd gave a standing ovation to freshman Bob Fox and senior Dave Pottorff, who competed against each other in an assault on the state situp record of 2,300 times.

Not only did the pair break the school record formerly held by Pottorff, but they each smashed the state record as well. The new state record holder for situps is Fox with a total of 5,000. Claiming the runnerup position was Pottorff with 4,100 mark.

The crowd applauded the mass calisthenics drill in the opening event by the freshmen and sophomore boys classes.

Then freshmen and sophomore girls took the floor in a demonstration of the Lummi sticks.

Pyramids

Following this, precision pyramid building with seven pyramids, going from a small one man pyramid on each end to a 15 man jumbo pyramid in the middle.

An advanced girls tumbling group presented an excellent series of routines including slow motion handstands, rollovers, cartwheels and walkovers, both under the gymnasium lights and before the black lights.

They closed their exhibition with a circular drill of cartwheels and rollovers in unison under the black lights.

Four weight lifters gave the fans gathered a delight, as each demonstrated a different technique in lifting. The four, Dan Popkins, Duane Huffman, Don Castle and Charles French received a well deserved round of applause.

In a series of splits, rollovers and twists, four girls, followed by four boys went through the paces in free exercises.

Crowd Pleasers

Also coming in for a large portion of the crowd's applause were the Buccaneers, members of the boys physical education class who demonstrated diving in rapid fire order, including diving over seven boys on the Swedish vaulting box or more than eight feet in the air, with the aid of a miniature trampoline.

Following the intermission, the crowd watched sometimes in awe as DHS physical education students performed in rope climbing, balancing on an Olympic beam, which is four inches wide; and flew high over the heads of the crowd on the flying rings and the high bar.

The bouncing Dukes, the next to the last event, featured three sets of duos including precision teamwork of Libby and Lucy Shaw; the Eddie sisters and clowns Gary Lee Edmunds and Ron Younggren.

Finale

In the night's finale, young men gilded with a gold paint, depicted the stirring moments of sports through the years, including the Discus Thrower, The Thinker, Adam, and then traced Dixon High 1966-67 sports season with the golden men.

Human statues posed for the sports of fencing, wrestling, track, cross country, tennis, golf, and football.

Last on the sports agenda was basketball, which, when announced, drew a thunderous applause from the 2,000 spectators.

To close out the show and the living statuary, the physical education classes paid tribute to the servicemen fighting in Vietnam and stationed around the world by demonstrating the raising of the flag on Iwo Jima by U. S. Marines during World War II to the tune of God Bless America.

equipment and keep up with the swift moving pace of the panorama. He and the members of his staff are to be congratulated for the fine job well done.

In a special presentation, Mike Kopacz presented WIXN's John Edmunds, WSDR's Jerry Gamel and this writer a gift certificate on behalf of the letterman's association for the publicity given the sports and physical education departments during the past year.

In case you missed Friday night's extravaganza, there will be one more performance of the show tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Dedicated to Those Who Serve

Was this stirring living statue depicting the flag raising at Iwo Jima which closed the Physical Panorama '67 at Dixon High School Friday night. Honoring former DHS students who are in the service of their country around the world, the tribute also emphasized the physical fitness requirements of the armed services. The panorama ends tonight.

Ellsworth Stops Cincinnati, 2-0

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Ellsworth and Mel Stottlemyre probably are the only major league leaders who won't be satisfied until somebody succeeds them.

Friday, Ellsworth and Stottlemyre took early measures to make sure they don't repeat as the losingest pitchers in baseball.

Ellsworth, who dropped 22 games for the Chicago Cubs in 1966, became the first pitcher this spring to go nine innings in hurling Philadelphia past Cincinnati 2-0 in an exhibition game Friday night.

Stottlemyre, whose 20 losses were high in the American League, pitched seven scoreless innings as the New York Yankees downed Boston 3-1 in the first major league exhibition ever played in the Virgin Islands.

Ellsworth, dealt to the Phillies in a winter trade for pitcher Ray Culp, tamed Cincinnati on only 103 pitches at Clearwater, Fla. He walked only one, struck out nine and was helped by three double plays.

The 27-year-old left-hander had an 8-22 record last season.

Stottlemyre, who won 20 in 1965 but finished 12-20 as the Yankees tumbled to last place in 1966, stymied the Red Sox on two hits in his best showing of the spring.

Cleveland's Sam McDowell, another pitcher who'd like to forget 1966, fired seven shutout innings as the Indians trimmed the Cubs 6-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Seven-run innings carried the Baltimore Orioles and Houston Astros to victories over Pittsburgh and Los Angeles in other night games.

The Orioles exploded with two out in the seventh, erased a 4-1 Pirate lead and won 8-4 at Ponce, Puerto Rico. Luis Aparicio started the rally with a double off Woody Fryman. Two walks, four singles and Dave Johnson's triple completed the seven-run burst.

Houston pummeled right-hander Don Sutton for seven runs in the second inning and went on to bury the Dodgers 13-1 in the Astrodome.

A pair of two-run homers by Jim Davenport powered San Francisco to a 10-6 victory over California at Phoenix, Ariz., while the Chicago White Sox scored twice in the sixth inning on a passed ball and Ron Hansen's double for a 6-4 decision over the New York Mets at Sarasota, Fla.

The Giants, with a 14-6 record, and the White Sox, 13-6 top the exhibition standings.

Mike Shannon's grand slam homer and Lou Brock's three-run triple paced St. Louis to a 12-2 romp over Kansas City at St. Petersburg, Fla. Rico Carty knocked in two runs with a double and triple in Atlanta's 4-2 victory over Minnesota at West Palm Beach, Fla., and Washington pushed over two runs in the 10th inning to edge Detroit 3-1 at Lakeland, Fla.

Kelly's Comments

By IRA G. "CLARK" KELLY
Telegraph Sports Editor

Boys will be boys and politicians will be . . . what else — politicians.

Those proposed investigations now set to begin next week, in this writer's view, won't accomplish very much, if anything at all.

Peterson's Big Ten

State Senator Joseph R. Peterson, R-Princeton, and our state senator, has proposed to investigate relations between Big Ten and the University of Illinois that can allow nine men, eight of whom don't reside in Illinois to dictate to the university to fire three coaches.

State Sen. William Lyons, D-Gillespie who was demoted to vice-chairman of the Illinois High School Assn. probe, is seeking to learn just who the organization is responsible to.

While he hasn't said, Lyons apparently assumes that an organization such as the IHSA which has principals and athletic directors as members, must somewhere along the line spend taxpayers monies.

Yet no statement of expenditures or not even a public audit has been made, according to Lyons.

The IHSA has made no statement except to say it would cooperate with the investigators and that it would have no other statements until after the probe.

We said above that both probes will reveal very little. Here's why.

In the case of the Big Ten, Commissioner Bill Reed is already on record of threatening to expel the university from the conference if the probes attempt to override the work of the University.

Originally the legislature granted certain rights to the school. Included in these was the right to have and regulate athletics at the school.

The Big Ten holds the athletic department responsible for the actions of the school and was the reason for ordering the coaches fired.

Now however, should the legislature attempt to interfere with the delegated powers given to the university, the Big Ten will rule this interference and penalize the university with expulsion or at least probation.

Thus there is a gun at the head of the subcommittee and they really won't do anything to upset the Big Ten-Illinois relationship-fractured as it already may be.

Sen. Lyons became angry because four top rated teams ended up playing each other, with only one of them having a chance for the state's Elite Eight.

Another of Lyons' complaints was that tickets were not readily available for the state tourney.

Still another complaint, raised to Albert Willis, executive secretary of the organization, during the state tourney by local Dixonites was the fact that western area cities such as Rock Island, Moline, East Moline, often wind up in the super-sectional. The "super" is always played at Wharton Field house, Moline's home court.

Other area teams always play on the court at least three times a year and usually more.

The specific question put to Willis was, "Is it fair for a team like West Rockford (or Dixon), to have to drive 50 to 90 miles to a super-sectional site and be on an unfamiliar floor, while the western regional winner has played three games on the floor the previous week and probably just driven at the most 25 miles?"

This year Moline only had to drive across town.

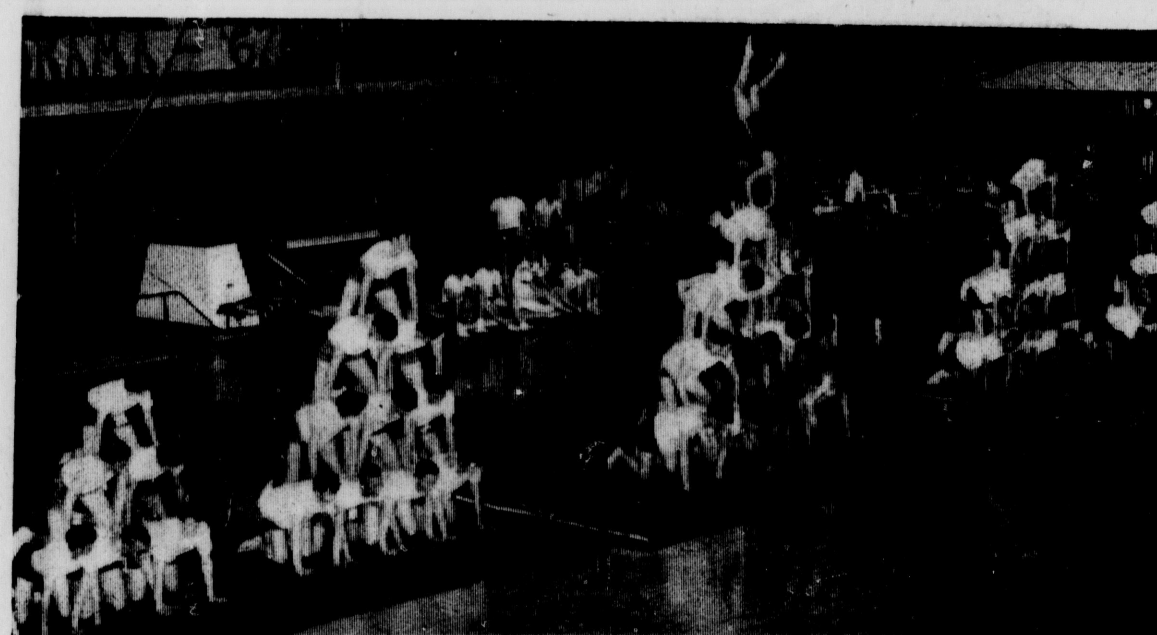

Willis' answer, according to the Dixonite, was that it was no advantage to Moline and not a disadvantage to West Rockford.

Previous Probe Dropped
Five to 10 years ago legislators proposed an investigation of the IHSA, but the investigation never came off, because the association somehow freed 354 tickets, 2 each, for the legislators (which is what they really wanted anyway) and the investigation was dropped.

While Sen. William G. Horsley was named chairman of the commission, Lyons originated the legislation to establish it.

Usually the person originating the legislation is named chairman but not in this case. The investigation into the association's affairs should be interesting but it is questionable whether or not the commission can run the association or tell it how to distribute tickets.

About all they will find out is how much Al Willis is making as executive secretary ($23,000?) and if real hard pressure is brought to bear, maybe an audit will be performed. But don't hold your breath until the audit comes.
